Parents More Guilty Than Children.

The parental and domestic relations courts show that in a majority of cases in which boys and girls are delinquent the parents are directly to blame. They allow their off-spring to roam the streets at will, prowl around day and night, join "the gang" and the end is, of course, the courts. Providing lunches at certain schools may be a good act, but investigation will show that in nearly all cases the parents are well able to feed their children, but so long as the city will relieve them of the trouble and expense, they let them do it. Here in Englewood, in all parts of the town, a crowd of very young boys and older girls are allowed to run the streets at all hours of the night. The boys become burglars and toughs and the girls worse. The police arrest them and the juvenile courts release them the next day without punishment. Why not arrest the negligent parents? Why not compel these people to properly care for their children, or lock them up, using the wages they may make at the Bridewell for the children's support? There is no reason why in these strenuous times the taxpayers should be burdened any more than necessary by these shiftless elements. Maudlin sentiment has made it impossible to have the courts punish the lawless children; let the parents then be punished as the responsible ones.

The windows of rich-stained glass add greatly to the churchly appearance of the building and it is hoped Mr. Cunningham may be able to entertain his friends in his beautiful establishment by the first of the month.

Pass Along the Courtesies.

Americans have the reputation among nearly all nationalities of being discourteous and in some sense it is deserved. We are not so discourteous as we are thoughtless and hurried. In our everlasting scramble for the almighty dollar we do not take time to meet a courtesy or favor with "Thank you," or recognize one by a bow, but we mean well, only unfortunately everyone may not read our meaning. It starts a day off finely to meet our friends with a smile or some slight act of recognition, and the recipient feels the same and passes the courtesy along which makes a widening circle until your smile has bred a thousand. The street car conductor is susceptible to it, the elevated guard, the copper on the beat, even the lowly newspaper man is grateful for a courtesy even though it be but a "Good morning," and it is the best investment, costs less and yields larger returns than any act we know of. The young should be taught it, and the older made to practice it. One little kindly act transforms a man or woman sometimes, so do you be the one to do the one little act. Try it out. Thank you.

All Englewood Should Have a Central Organization.

It has long been the dream and hope of the Times that all of Englewood should unite in a grand organization with civic, commercial and social departments, and have a central headquarters and organization where all Englewood might meet and have a public home. This idea may yet be carried through, and several committees are now working out a feasible plan to accomplish it. The plan thus far is in the hands of the directors of the Englewood club and the Greater Englewood Commercial and Civic association. When we speak of Englewood we do not mean 63d St. alone, but all of that great territory from 55th St. (Garfield Blvd.) south to the city limits and from State St. west to the drainage canal. All of the divisions, plats and districts are Englewood, anyway; their interests are the same in every way and the benefits derived by unity would be enormous. We have no millionaires and few paupers, our social and commercial interests are identical and, presenting a united front, we would be important in the body politic. Of course there would be no political or religious combination, the only requisite for membership to be honorable citizenship and pure, unadulterated Americanism and loyalty to our country, our city and our locality. A $20,000 clubhouse property awaits such an organization, with complete equipment, central and convenient location, and all that is needed is for our good people to get together. The membership fee or dues would be within the reach of all, and we hope to see 400 members enrolled, exclusive of the ladies, all of whom we hope to see identified with us within the next month. We will give further particulars in our columns as they develop and ask a careful consideration of the matter.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF ENGLEWOOD.
64th St. and Yale Ave.
Pastor, Rev. Willard H. Robinson, D. D.
6530 Lafayette Ave.

At Englewood Presbyterian church: At the morning service, at 10:30 a. m., Doctor Robinson will speak on "Co-Operation Writ Large." Mr. Lloyd-George has been stirring his nation to wrath and reproach by boldly declaring that there is not sufficient practical unity among the allies to win the war. What he says is startling enough in itself. But one great value of this strange world turmoil is that it is showing us on a large scale, so large as to be majestic and impressive, principles which we already held but in which we could see no special grandeur. The present great national food administration glorifies that household economy in which we already believed but about which we saw no gathering halo. Now the saving of white bread and going without sugar or beef have become sanctified. Waste has become a crime in a sense undreamed of a year or two ago. The same is true of every great principle of human life. The Y. M. C. A. club at the front, the exclusion of thousands of men from the British army because impurity has incapacitated them, the homely fact that courage depends to no small extent on whether a man is well and wisely fed or not; these and many other lessons are heeded now as never before, simply because in this war they are "writ large." Co-operation, then, which has always seemed a desirable virtue, now becomes a startling and not yet fully attained prerequisite for winning the world's war.

Our Paper Purely Local.

We are often compelled to refuse space for interesting items of news of a general character, but we must reserve our space for purely local matter, or at least matter that concerns our home people. We cover a large territory, from 55th St. to the south city limits and from State St. west to Marquette Pk., hence we have little space for loud-winded articles, no matter how important the subject or for items that may please certain people. We gladly give space to all local matter, personals or anything concerning our own home district or for the good of our people. All matter must be signed, not for publication, but that we may know the matter is genuine. We also ask that our writers be brief; we have no space to kill, and are compelled to condense all matter.

Much Troubled.

Mrs. A—"Are you troubled much in your neighborhood with borrowing?" Mrs. B—"Yes, a good deal. My neighbors never seem to have anything I want."

NATIONAL THEATRE

"Turn Back the Hours," the latest enamation from the versatile and prolific pen of one of America's most popular playwrights, Edward E. Rose, is to be the attraction at the National for the week of November 25. Special matinee Thanksgiving day at 2:30. Mr. Rose won fame by dramatizing some of the leading fiction stories of their day, such as "Janice Meredith," "David Harum" and "Under the Red Robe," and also has placed to his credit numerous original successes, including "The Rosary," "Rock of Ages" and "The Daughter of Mother Machree."

It tells the story of a young and beautiful girl, living in her own palatial mansion, who, by a strange adventure, finds herself suddenly a prisoner in a den of vice in the underworld. A brave and true man whom she has rejected as a suitor attempts to save her, but she declines to avail herself of the way of safety he throws open. There is another girl prisoner in the den—her friend—and she tells him she must stay there and rescue this girl.

It is really a tale of dual personality, presenting the heroine in the two characters of Marion Fairley, the rich girl, and "Roxy," a waif of the streets, who knows by heart the wilds and snares of the underworld and talks its lingo with an abandon that gives to the dramatic story a tang of original and delightful humor. The dual part is in the capable hands of Miss Mabelle Estelle, who played the lead in "The Girl He Couldn't Buy," one of last season's dramatic successes, and has been starred by Edgar Selwyn and other well-known New York producers. She appears under the management of Arthur C. Aiston and is supported by a specially selected Broadway cast.

E. A. R. THEATRE

Friday and Saturday, Nov. 23-24—Matinee Saturday, Geraldine Farrar in "The Woman God Forgot." The production is a wonder, and as the dauter of the ill-fated Montezuma Miss Farrar is superb. The story revolves around the Aztecs in the days of Cortez, and as can be imagined, the scenery and costuming are magnificent. A big, dramatic story with life and action in every inch of its all-too-short five reels. It's a winner from the start. Other attractions.

Sunday, Nov. 25—2 to 11 p. m. "The Mysterious Mr. Tiller." A thrilling detective story told in gripping episodes and featuring Rupert Julian and Ruth Clifford. "Prentice Tiller" was a regular "Sherlock Holmes" when it came to solving mysteries. But he found himself baffled on all sides when he attempted to find the famous Golconda necklaces. How he solved the mystery and won the girl makes five acts of tense interest and excitement. "A Dog Catcher's Love," two-part Keystone comedy. Also Burton Holmes Travelogue. Added attraction, matinee only, Pearl White in "The Fatal Ring," No. 9.

Monday, Nov. 26—7 to 11 p. m.—William S. Hart in "The Aryan," five parts. One of the most effective and artistic creations of this notable actor's career as a cinema star. "Love and the Locksmith," Christie comedy. Pathe News. Also, "Rubbing It In," Drew comedy.

Tuesday, Nov. 27—7 to 11 p. m. Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle in "Fatty in Coney Island." It's a riotous scream from start to finish. George Beban in "Lost in Transit," five parts. Do not miss George Began as "Nicolo Darini" in this great New York success.

Wednesday, Nov. 28—7 to 11 p. m. "The Haunted House," five parts, Winifred Allen as the little girl who has never known love of any kind, and who lives in the little, narrow-minded, bigoted New England village, her only moments of happiness those spent in communion with the departed spirits, has a most difficult role, which she handles with great skill and sympathy. "A Dark Room Secret," Triangle comedy. Also, Pathe Latest News.

Thursday, Nov. 29—2 to 11 p. m. "Barbary Sheep," six parts. Elsie Ferguson, one of the most famous stars of the speaking stage, is the heroine of Robert Hichens' romantic story of Algeria. This is Miss Ferguson's bow to the screen, and her debut is looked forward to with greater interest than has attended that of any other stage star for some time. Also, a very good two-part comedy.

Saturday, Dec. 1—Billie Burke in "Arms and the Girl."

ENGLEWOOD THEATRE

With 20 pretty and shapely girls, "The Aviators" open at the Englewood theatre week of November 25, a thoroughly entertaining show by a capable cast of principals headed by Gladys Sears. The show is programed in three parts, an opening burletta, entitled "The Mustard Kings," three olio acts and the closing burletta, entitled "Flying High." As a good, fast, enjoyable show, that embraces a combination of everything that is entertaining, "The Aviators" goes over with a bang. The music is catchy and pretty, the costumes look well from the front, while the scenery is generous and more than pleasing to the eye. Much credit is due the management of the show in its selection of principals. Gladys Sears, who heads the cast, is the same popular favorite with the burlesque fans and is well received whenever she appears. In support of this leading lady will be found Sammy Evans, a Hebrew comic, new to burlesque, who gives a creditable performance throughout the show. Charles Neil, in an Irish part, was well liked, as was Fred DeSilva, who played straight. Naomi Marcy is a good-looking prima donna and gives a good account of herself, as does Eva Lewis in the soubrette's role. Babe Nasworthy and May Bell are two clever girls who play small parts and leave a good impression. As a special vaudeville feature with the show for the current term are Scranton, Bell & Scranton, two men and a woman, who do many difficult tricks on the slack wire. This was a real treat in the way of vaudeville specialty. "Lime Dixon's Models," a posing act, is handsomely staged and a prime favorite with the audiences. The show is sure fine and one worth while seeing. If you like burlesque you sure will enjoy this attraction.

MARLOWE HIPPODROME

"Doc" White is doing things at the Marlowe Hippodrome and a glance over the program of this week will convince one that he has struck the vein of amusement that Englewood people like. The excellent houses at the Marlowe each night is a tribute alike to the excellent talent engaged and to the versatile "Doc's" ability in picking them. We have all seen "movies" that reminded one of a funeral, and others alleged to be funny that were simply agonizing in their primitiveness and gaucherie. This is the kind you won't see at the Marlowe and the vaudeville acts are always the newest and best. With a big string of the best houses the management can afford to book attractions that smaller houses that play a lone hand, can't afford to put on. It is the policy of this popular house to learn of all the newest on the vaudeville stage and then book it. The price is always an after consideration and the result is they really have what they advertise—"first-class vaudeville"—at every performance.

A feature of the Marlowe is the cleanliness of the program, no questionable acts are allowed, no profanity or smut is allowed to go over the lights and women and children are as carefully considered as in their own homes or churches. Amusement, clean and fresh, is their specialty and the best humor does not need smut to make it good.

The patrons of the Marlowe appreciate the efforts of Mr. White and are showing it by their patronage, and an empty seat is as big a curiosity as a white black-bird, while the big play house will comfortably seat more people than any house in this part of the city. Moral: Become a Marlowe patron, try it once and you will be sure to become a regular.

Here is a little "look in" to what is on the bill for next week:

Monday—Chas. Chaplin in one of his joy producers and vaudeville.

Tuesday—The big joy nite. Song Publishers' Revue and local contest. Also loving cup contest and vaudeville.

Wednesday and Thursday—Loop vaudeville—special selected program.

Friday—Ten all-star acts; six loop acts and four professional revue acts.

EMPRESS THEATRE

Been to the Empress theatre this week? What! Not? Then you have missed one great chance of amusement and they don't come too plenty these strenuous days of war and war's alarms. Harry Mitchell, the genial manager, has been losing sleep figuring how he can keep his many patrons in good humor and stir their risibles by the merry laugh, and how well he has succeeded you may learn by a matinee or evening visit to the great forum of laughter, the Empress theatre. Just at this season there are many new acts going out on the circuits and after they have been tried and found good, Harry Mitchell pounces on them and refuses to give them a parole card to travel by until they have had a booking at his house, so the Empress patrons get the first chance at many of the newest acts that will be seen later as headliners in the biggest city houses.

Those 15-cent matinees are a wonder and the carriage line of buzz wagons that lines Halsted St. for a block show that people from a distance appreciate the merits of the Empress and crowd in to see it at least once or twice a week. While the usual vaudeville stunts of the "outside" houses are frayed and worn, those at the Empress are the newest and best, the other kind have no time here, as they would feel as strange as a German dachshund in a French market. No matter when you have the time, afternoon or night, you will find an excellent bill of fare in the amusement line waiting you at the Empress, and you are welcome at any time, you and your friends.

TRIANGLE THEATRE

The management of the Triangle theatre, 7219 Wentworth Ave., hereby extends a courteous invitation to each and every patron of the Nu-Sho to hereafter attend the Triangle, where (by closing the Nu-Sho) we can afford to give much better pictures than have ever been shown in the neighborhood. Our operating room is remodeled and we now have one of the best operators Chicago affords. Everything will be done that is possible for the comfort and entertainment of our patrons. Our policy (5 and 10c) will remain as it has been; 10 and 15c only when big, expensive features are shown. A cordial welcome awaits you.—F. C. Parr, owner; L. L. Johnson, Manager.

LINDEN PHOTODROME

Friday, Nov. 23—Mae Marsh in "Sunshine Alley." The story of the play is such that it will appeal to all classes of people. It is full of heart interest, and the greatest picture Miss Marsh has ever appeared in. The Burton Holmes Travelogue picture and a Victor Moore comedy.

Saturday, Nov. 24—Ethel Clayton in "Easy Money." You'll like this attraction, because of Miss Clayton's superb acting, because it is modern, unusual, different; because of the rare beauty of the outdoor scenes, because of the splendid acting by the film favorites in the cast supporting Miss Clayton, and, finally, you'll like it because it is a corking good show. On this day will be no children admitted. Also the Weekly and a good comedy.

Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 26-27—William Farnum in "The Conqueror," a gripping drama picturing the career of Gen. Sam Houston, 300 of the most famous American Indians with their chiefs, Mexican soldiers, United States cavalrymen, Texas Rangers, troopers and guards. A picture that will go down in the annals of filmdom. Directed by R. A. Walsh, who made "The Honor System."

Wednesday, Nov. 28—Louise Lovely and all-star cast in "Sirens of the Sea." Better than "A Daughter of the Gods." We guarantee this production to be one of the most beautiful pictures ever made; a picture we know will please everyone.

In "The Conqueror," Monday and Tuesday, November 26 and 27.

OUR WANT COLUMN

Is the best medium of reaching people in the South part of the city, and our rate of one cent a word is exceptionally low, but we must insist that all such ads be paid for in advance and either brought to the office or sent by mail as we cannot afford to make bills and send collectors for same. This applies to everyone whether you are a friend to the editor or office boy, and we will positively make no exceptions, so please do not kick if your request to violate this rule is refused.

Write Cheery Letters.

One girl has a plan which has worked out admirably. She never writes any of her troubles to her people. She decided when she started out in life for herself that she would never write of her worries. If she were in any real difficulty she would use the telegraph. And she would use it only to solve a problem which could not be solved in any other way.

So far she has been able to work out all her problems without writing of her worries. She has never telegraphed, because she has found that with earnest effort she has been able to work out all of her own difficulties.

Temper, Foe of Collar.

Recent tests prove that a man's temper has more to do with his collar wearing out than does the much abused laundry. In the tests new collars endured around forty trips through the laundry process before cracks began to render them unpresentable.

On the other hand, collars that were worn after each washing were good for only about twenty trips through the laundry.

It is easy to crack a collar in buttoning it; damage can be done when adjusting the necktie, especially when his adjustment is done violently or impatiently.

FEW VISIT INLAND TURKEY

Americans Are Not Acquainted With Thriving City of Kaisariyeh, an Ancient Metropolis.

Of the real Turkey few Americans have a clear picture. Constantinople and Smyrna, a few seaports—thousands of Americans have seen those. Very few Americans have made the inland voyage. Behold, thne, the city of Kaisariyeh, half-way between the Mediterranean and the Black sea, served by no railroad, yet a thriving place of 60,000 people, playing something like the role of a Chicago to Constantinople's New York, writes a correspondent.

Aproaching Kaisariyeh of a morning one sees it haloed by a haze of light blue smoke. It rises from the fumes from the charcoal braziers, which are set out on the roofs until they are well alight, for these first fumes from the slowly burning charcoal, odorless and scarcely visible, are fatal in the inclosed air of a room. Later the clear sunlight bathes the housetops and the towering form of Mount Argaeus rises like a snow-capped sentinel behind the city. The streets are full of a motley crowd, gray-bearded sheiks of the old regime pausing to exhange the elaborate bows and greetings ordained by formality, and young officers of the Young Turks' party riding by on restless horses.

At sunrise, noon and sunset, the boom of a single cannon thuds out from the roof of the old palace. This cannon serves as the town clock, and as all the ritual of prayer and fasting commanded by the prophet for the different feasts is regulated by its thunder, the old man who serves it is one of the most important local functionaries.

HE BELIEVES IN PUBLICITY

"Are you the man who takes in society news?" he queried with an appealing look.

"Yes, sir," cheerfully replied the young man at the desk. "I can take any kind of news. What have you got?"

"Why, it's just this way," said the caller, lowering his voice. "My wife gave a party last night. It was a brilliant affair, and I am willing to pay to have this report of it put in the paper."

"We don't charge anything for publishing society news," explained the clerk, at the same time taking the proffered manuscript and looking it over.

"That's all right," was the reply. "You don't get me. I wrote this up myself, and I put in a line that says, 'Mr. Halfback assisted his distinguished wife in receiving the guests.' That's the way I want it to go in, and I don't care what the cost is, absolutely don't care what the cost is. I want my friends to know, by George, that I still belong to the family."—Lippincott's Magazine.

As far as food supplies are concerned, Alaska can be made self-sustaining. The soil of the territory is capable of producing grain, vegetables and berries, the greatest hindrance to large crops being the short summer season.

A Woman's Burdens

are lightened when she turns to the right medicine. If her existence is made gloomy by the chronic weaknesses, delicate derangements, and painful disorders that afflict her sex, she will find relief and emancipation from her troubles in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If she's overworked, nervous, or "run-down," she finds new life and strength. It's a powerful, invigorating tonic and nervine which was discovered and used by an eminent physician for many years, in all cases of "female complaints" and weaknesses. For young girls just entering womanhood; for women at the critical "change of life": in bearing-down sensations, periodical pains, ulceration, inflammation, and every kindred ailment, the "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine put up without alcohol—ingredients on wrapper.

If not obtainable at your dealer's send 10 cents to Dr. V. M. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and he will mail trial package of the tablets. Large package 60c.

CHICAGO, ILL.—"I have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, Golden Medical Discovery, Pleasant Pellets, Healing Suppositories and Lotion Tablets. When I started to use these medicines I was so weak I was not able to do my work, but can say I am well now. My doctor is surprised for he wanted to operate on me. I weighed at first only 130, I now weigh 155 and feel fine. I hope this will help other sufferers, for it is very hard to be sick."—MRS. HANNAH KIRBY, 4622 Fairfield Ave.

QUINCY, ILL.—"Some years ago I suffered from a nervous breakdown, brought on by woman's weakness. I saw Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription advertised and bought a bottle. Two bottles restored me to absolutely perfect health and I have never had any return of woman's weakness since. I am very glad indeed to recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as an ideal medicine for women."—MRS. M. A. GRAY, 406 S. Third Street.

Some Excuse.

Johnny was a typical boy, and full of excuses for any wrongdoing. One day he whistled aloud in school and his teacher asked how he happened to do it.

Johnny said: "I—I—didn't mean to. I had a little hair in my mouth and I wanted to push it out; I didn't know it was going to make any noise."

Nerves All Unstrung?

Nervousness and nerve pains often come from weak kidneys. Many a person who worries over trifles and is troubled with neuralgia, rheumatic pains and backache would find relief through a good kidney remedy. If you have nervous attacks, with headaches, backaches, dizzy spells and sharp, shooting pains, try Doan's Kidney Pills. They have brought quick benefit in thousands of such cases.

An Illinois Case

Mrs. Mary Laubly, 620 S. Tenth Ave., Maywood, Ill., says: "For years I was in poor health from disordered kidneys and inflammation of the bladder. The pains in my back were awful and mornings it was all I could do to get up. My feet and ankles were swollen and I often got so dizzy I could hardly keep from falling. Doan's Kidney Pills made me well after everything else had failed. I have felt fine since."

'Twas Easily Done.

Hypochondria was the topic that was being discussed at a social affair, says the Philadelphia Press, when Senator William A. Smith of Michigan recalled the following story:

A woman who was perfectly well, but imagined she had at least a dozen different diseases, called one day to consult an eminent specialist.

"I think I understand your case thoroughly, madam," said the doctor as the patient began to tell the story of her life. "Just sit quite still a moment and let me look at you."

The patient complied and after studying her intently for a little while the physician glanced at his watch.

"There is nothing the matter with you, madam," finally said the doctor. "You haven't the slightest indication of fever, and your heart beat is perfectly normal."

"Why, how do you know, doctor?" exclaimed the patient in surprise. "You didn't take my pulse."

"It wasn't necessary, madam," smiled the specialist. "I counted the vibrations of the ostrich feather on your hat."

Singers Own Accompanists.

So that singers can use phonographs to play their accompaniments an attachment has been invented that displays the words of songs on a reel of paper as a record is being played.

Harm One Can Do.

One rotten apple spoils the whole barrel—and one mentally bloated autocrat in Europe has already caused the downfall of several others.

Shipping.

American ships about 100 years ago carried 90 per cent of the commerce of the country; today they are carrying less than 10 per cent.

Attraction extraordinary, Friday, November 23rd, matinee and night. First showing in this vicinity, William Farnum in the most realistic and beautiful picturization ever shown, "The Conqueror." "Remember the Alamo," a gripping American drama picturing the career of Gen. Sam Houston, in eight big parts. Three hundred wonderful scenes and a cast of 1,500. A truly wonderful play, with love, interest, punch, action, suspense, humor, atmosphere and pathos. A photoplay that will go down in the annals of filmdom. You must see it—bring the children. Come early. No advance in prices. Also other attractions.

Extra, two days, direct from the Loop, Saturday and Sunday, November 24 and 25, matinee and night. Thomas H. Ince presents the greatest delineator of Western characters, William S. Hart, in his latest and greatest success, "The Narrow Trail," written by Mr. Hart himself. A splendid romantic photodrama of the golden West, teeming with thrilling incidents and having a heart appeal distinctly its own. Also Saturday matinee, Mollie King in "Seven Pearls." Also a scream two-part Keystone comedy, and Mutt and Jeff comedy. Also, Sunday only, matinee, "The Fighting Trail." Latest Pathe News Weekly, and the new Mack Sennett riot, "A Pullman Bride," in two parts.

At the "Harvard Beautiful," Two Days, Saturday and Sunday, November 24th and 25th.

Monday, November 26th, matinee and night, first time in the South side, Paramount Pictures presents Ann Pennington in "The Antics of Ann." Harum-Scarum Ann Pennington will keep you chuckling for many a day at her antics in that hotbed of convention, a girl's seminary. Too good to miss. Also other attractions.

Special, one day only, Tuesday, November 27th, matinee and night, Goldwyn Pictures offer the Bernhardt of the screen, Mae Marsh, assisted by Robert Haron, her former leading man, again with her, in "Sunshine Alley," in six acts, giving Mae Marsh a role unlike anything she ever had before in her career. The role is plaintive and charming, and in addition there is a whimsical note that gives her the opportunity to reveal again what a really great actress she is. Also Burton Holmes Travel Pictures.

Wednesday, November 28th, Emily Stevens, in "Outwitted." In "Outwitted," Emily Stevens, as Nan Kennedy, is trying to influence her brother, who has made one mistake, to lead an honest life. To save him from a "job" he has been forced to undertake, she does it herself, and is caught by the rich man whose safe she has just opened. She expects to be sent to prison. Instead, he demands that she spend a year in his house as his niece. He aids her to marry the man she loves—and then tells her young husband in the presence of the wedding guests that she is a common crook. Nan finally wins back happiness, after a desperate struggle. See how!

Extra, two days. Direct from the Loop. Thursday, November 29 (Thanksgiving), continuous, 2 to 11 p. m., Friday, November 30, matinee and night. Here's what you've been waiting for. Captivating little Marguerite Clark, in the second of the famous "Sub-Deb" stories, by Mary Roberts Rinehart, "Bab's Burglar." This is one even better than the first, and you know what that means. Brilliant as the sparkle of gems, and sweet as and old love song, Miss Clark will delight you and keep you happy from start to finish. If you feel blue, have a grouch, or if there's nothing the matter with you, and you just want to have a good laugh after your Thanksgiving dinner, be sure to see this breezy laugh maker. Also the funniest Mack Sennett comedy ever shown, "Roping Her Romeo," in two parts, and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew, in their latest comedy, a wonderful, all-star comedy program, especially secured for this glorious day. Come early, bring the children. Price the same.

At the "Harvard Beautiful," Thursday and Friday, Nov. 29th and 30th.

EMPRESS THEATRE

The Empress theatre's matinees daily are the great attraction and the merry little 35 cents jingle in the till as the merry little maid hands out the admission tickets and the vast audiences put in several pleasant hours in being entertained by the varied attractions genial Manager Harry Mitchell provides for them. The great big house is one of the most comfortable in the city as well as of largest seating capacity. In fact, the large audiences are the secret of the good shows, as smaller houses could not afford the class of attractions the Empress gives at the little dime figure. The bill changes so often that new attractions are always bubbling up like water from a clear spring, and a visit either afternoon or evening is always enjoyable. In fact the dismissal of an Empress audience is noticeable on Halsted St. as a crowd of smiling people almost create a stampede on that busy thoroughfare. Of course we don't claim we are the only show on earth, but we are one of the best, and at the prices we ask we have no equal and stand ready to prove it any day or evening.

Appreciating the fact that people tire of all pictures and even all vaudeville, we combine the two, and even introduce programs which may not be included as either, our sole aim being to give our patrons just what they want in a melange of talent that will not tire but amuse and interest and awake the risibles to the titilation that ends in a guffaw and a laugh.

Superiority.

"Women are queer."

"Yea?"

"Mrs. Twobble has just returned from a trip to New York and merely because she stayed at a hotel with more dining rooms than the hotel usually patronized by Mrs. Jibway on her eastern trips can boast of she's inclined to look down on Mrs. Jibway."

Englewood High School Notes.

Monday night saw the close of the captain ball season. Physics and Chemistry won. The games were hotly contested.

Principal James E. Armstrong is in Champaign today at the University of Illinois. He is attending the annual Educational conference there.

Mr. Tower is going to Columbus, O., the latter part of next week to attend the annual meeting of the Central Association of Science and Mathematics Teachers.

The Engleboosters are undertaking, along with other high schools, the inspection of street signs at street intersections. They will report any that are missing or broken.

During the past week the pupils and teachers of the school took a very active part in the Y. M. C. A. work. The boys of the school canvassed their districts well, and although the full results are not fully known, they have secured many subscriptions. The teachers gave $642.50. Englewood helped Chicago do her bit.

Englewood played her last league game of the season last Saturday when she met Hyde Park at Stagg field. The team put up a plucky fight, but was defeated, 55-7. Hyde Park had to fight hard for every point. Injured in the first part of the game, Bromsted came back in the last quarter and scored a touchdown after running through the entire Hyde Park team. This was the only score made against Hyde Park this year.

Happiness.

"When you think you'd be happy if you was let alone," said Uncle Eben, "remember dat even then you'd mebbe be so lonesome you couldn't be happy."

IN TIMES OF A BULL MARKET or a Bear Market orders come in fast and furious. Everyone wants action at once. Orders are executed so rapidly that even the "ticker" gets five, sometimes ten minutes behind the market. It can work so fast—then people must wait. So with the telephone service.

ANY UNUSUAL EVENT brings a perfect avalanche of calls. Everyone turns first to the telephone.

WHEN AN OCCASION of this kind arises, stop and picture to yourself what is taking place in the telephone exchange. Signals flashing incessantly and hundreds of people clamoring vehemently for service. In many instances curiosity alone is largely responsible for telephone congestion.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 25

A PSALM OF THANKSGIVING.

LESSON TEXT—Psalms 103.

GOLDEN TEXT—Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits.—Ps. 103:2.

This Psalm is man's response to the goodness and mercy of God. It expresses the joy and gratitude of a forgiven sinner as he worships before God. There is too much in this Psalm for one to attempt to set it forth, so we must be content to display some of its most prominent notes.

I. Man's Entire Being Should Sing God's Praise, v. 1. The true worshipper praises God with every faculty of his being; his intellect, emotion, desires, affections all unite in praising Jehovah. The entire being responds in a song of harmonious praise. Some praise God with their voices but not with their hearts; some with their intellect but not with their affections; some with their emotions but not with their wills. That praise which involves the entire being alone is pleasing to God.

II. The Benefits Granted, vv. 2-6. The Psalmist exhorts man not to forget all God's benefits. This seems to be needed now as well as then, for most of us are better at remembering our troubles and adversities, our losses and our sorrows, than we are at remembering our mercies and blessings. It would be a good thing for some of us to keep a record of the good things of life and see that, after all, our blessings outweigh our burdens. We have more days of sunshine than of clouds, more joys than we have of sorrows, more hours when we are free from pain than we suffer with pain. If God were as forgetful of us as we are of Him, life would be hard indeed.

(1) Forgiveness of sins, v. 3. In forgiveness we are freed from the curse of sin and its blight and burdens are removed. We are not only forgiven, but we are healed of sin's disease; not only freed from the burdens of sin but of its effects, so that we do not go after the things of this world. To be saved for heaven means that we are saved from the world.

(2) Redemption, v. 4. We have been saved by Christ giving Himself as a ransom for our souls.

(3) Satisfaction, v. 5. When God redeems, He so thoroughly renews the man that the good things which he gets from God satisfy him. His blessings are so real that he finds satisfaction in God. Men and women of the world are reaching out after fleeting things. They are ever grasping after something, but are never satisfied. Not so with the redeemed soul; he finds absolute satisfaction in the things which God gives him. Worldlings may be satiated, but God's redeemed alone are satisfied.

(4) Executing judgment in behalf of the oppressed, v. 6. He is always on the side of the oppressed. God undertakes for his own, and sooner or later He will mete out justice to all. There is a reckoning day for the world coming. Those who have done evil shall suffer loss; those who have done good shall be rewarded.

III. Attributes of God for Which He Should Be Praised, vv. 7-18. These attributes have been displayed in God's dealings with his chosen people.

(1) Merciful and gracious, v. 8. He is slow to anger and plenteous in mercy. An example of his mercy is seen in the father of the prodigal son running to meet his son and kissing him. A very little thought will make very evident how God withholds his anger and waits patiently for an opportunity to extend his mercy.

(2) He will not always "chide," vv. 8-12. When God forgives he forgives forever. Men say they forgive, but how often they "chide" and "keep anger." God has not dealt with us according to our sins, for, as the heavens are high above the earth, so great is his mercy toward them that they fear him. So really has God forgiven us that our transgressions are as far removed from us as the East is from the West, an incalculable distance.

(3) He is compassionate and tender, vv. 13-14. This reveals God's fatherly heart. He fully knows our weakness. He does not deal with us as though we were strong. He knows how weak and fallible we are through the fall. It is consoling to know that God considers our "frame"; He knows that we are "dust."

(4) His mercy is everlasting, eternal, vv. 15-17. Man is at best transitory, but God is eternal. The one who rests his hopes in God is eternally safe. This should encourage us to lean not upon man but upon God.

(5) God is gracious to those who are in covenant relationship, v. 18. If we would enjoy these blessings revealed in God's attributes we must be God's children. His mercies are restrictive, only bestowed upon his own children.

IV. A Call to All the Universe to Praise the Lord, vv. 19-22. Since God is such a wonderful Being, He should have universal praise. His kingdom is over all; his Lordship should have recognition.

Complete Surrender.

Turn wholly from yourself and give up yourself wholly to God with these words, "O my God, with all the strength of my soul, assisted by thy grace, I resolve to resist and deny all my own will, earthly tempers, selfish views and inclination, everything that the spirit of the world and fallen nature prompt me to." This must be the daily, the hourly, exercise of your mind till it is wrought into your very nature, and you feel yourself as habitually turned from your own will and earthly desires as you are from stealing and murder. As soon as the soul is thus dead to self, free from its own passions, and wholly given up to God, happiness will follow.—William Law.

Envy Not.

Whenever you attempt a good work you will find other men doing the same kind of work, and probably doing it better. Envy them not.—Drummond.

Value of Praise.

The praises of others may be of use in teaching us, not what we are, but what we ought to be.—Hare.

Enthusiasm Needed.

WIFE NAGGED HIM TOO MUCH

Jarvits Decided to Go Behind Big Cannons and Lose Hearing—Now in Peace.

Synopsis: Jason Jarvits is a home-loving man. He loves to sit about in his carpet slippers reading the papers, and he loves his wife, Coorna, dearly, but hates to hear her complain of his shiftless habits, says the Detroit Free Press. Now, as she keeps complaining of them from morning till night, Jarvits finds it extremely difficult to keep his mind on his pipe and his paper. He thinks of spending his time at a club or at movies, but is inherently such a home-loving man that the very thought is repugnant to him. So he stands his wife's unceasing flow of words until one day something he sees in the paper (while he is smoking his pipe) gives him a brilliant idea.

Conclusion: "It's true that we are badly in need of men to help fire these new 80-cylinder cannons," said Colonel Kimmel, in charge of the government proving grounds at Skippington. "But it is my duty to warn you that the shock of the firing is extremely bad for the ears. In fact, 18 men in the past week have been deafened and honorably discharged with a pension."

"I want the job," said Jason Jarvits firmly.

In three days the drums in both his ears were shattered.

Returning home joyously he subscribed for a dozen extra papers, bought four more pipes and settled down to smoke and read contentedly on his pension, entirely unaware as to whether his wife was talking or not.

OLD PRESCRIPTION FOR WEAK KIDNEYS

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfil the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says, "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy that I know of has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmers' Swamp-Root is due to the fact that, so many people claim, it fulfils almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Adv.

Method in His Madness.

A story is brought from Camp Funston, says the Kansas City Star: A young draft soldier paced the parade ground alone. Stooping suddenly he picked up a small block of wood, studied it a moment, and cast it aside with the remark: "That ain't it." Walking farther, he stooped and brought up a scrap of paper, scanned it, and threw it away, again saying: "That ain't it." A third pause a minute later brought his attention to a cigarette stub, but close scrutiny brought the same rejection, "That ain't it."

His captain stood within heaving, watching the draft soldier closely. It was apparent the young man's mentality was wavering. The guard was called and the patient was sent to the hospital. The next day the captain went to the hospital with the patient's discharge papers. On their delivery, the sufferer held the papers up to the light, examined them closely, and then announced:

"That's it."

Cantonment Road Building.

A record breaking piece of road building recently was completed in connection with the army cantonment at Louisville, says an exchange, which continues:

"This is one of the few military establishments that have built permanent roads. In 63 working days the contractor completed 63,360 square yards of Trinidad asphaltic concrete highway laid on a concrete base, or about six miles of road 18 feet wide. A mile of the road was over a four-foot fill, and immediately upon its completion a traffic count showed that 4,000 vehicles passed over it within the first hour. Most of these vehicles were motor trucks and wagons carrying loads from one to five tons. The record . . . is all the more remarkable in view of the fact that it was necessary to haul and crush all the stone used in the work."

Easy to Rid Home of Rats and Mice

There is no need of suffering from the depredations of rats and mice now that Stearns' Paste is readily obtainable at nearly every store. A small box of this effective exterminator costs only 25 cents and is usually sufficient to completely rid the house, store or barn of rats and mice. The U. S. Government has bought thousands of pounds of Stearns' Paste for use in cities where rats and mice are plentiful. The Paste is also efficient in destroying cockroaches and waterbugs. Adv.

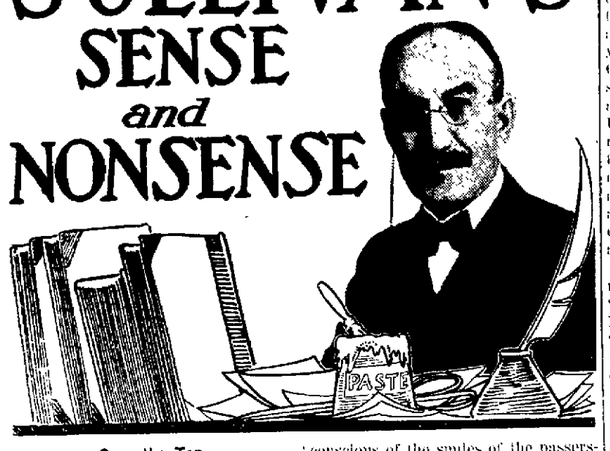
SULLIVAN'S SENSE and NONSENSE



Over the Top.

Over the top at break of day,
Went "divil-may-care" young Dan O'Shea;
Over the top, his bayonet bright
Aglow in the morning's kindling light.
A screaming shell and in far Athlone
Dark-eyed Nora weeps alone.

Over the top at break of day,
Went blue-eyed Fritz in his coat of gray;
Over the top in the morning light,
Into the thick of the fiendish fight.
A shadow across the morning's gold.

And who shall say—on Judgment Day,
When up from the blood-soaked sod,
Their souls shall rise beyond the skies
To the great white throne of God—
Which one shall stand on his right hand,
Which one a debt must pay,
For each man, true to the best he knew,
Went o'er the top at break of day.

It isn't difficult to feel thankful this year after reading a description of the unfortunates in other lands.

A crowd was joshing a certain doctor about one of his patients who, according to the story of one of the fellows, had been doctored for liver trouble and died of stomach trouble. The doctor arose in his own defense and said, "You mustn't believe all you hear; you can just bet that when I treat a man for liver trouble he dies of liver trouble."

Casey arrested a "joy rider" yesterday who had knocked a man down while racing down Wentworth Ave. Casey testified in the court that the driver gave no warning of his coming and the judge asked: "Do you mean to say he had no horn?" and Casey answered: "Yis, sor, thot's jist it; he did hove a horn an' too miny iv thim. A man while on an extended tour of the state had several mishaps. His wife's curiosity being excited by a certain proceeding of his in this relation, she finally asked: "I notice that every time the car breaks down you fish out your state license and examine it very carefully. Why do you do that?" "For encouragement, my dear," replied the motorist. "The license states that I am competent to operate the machine."

An Englewood married couple started out with the baby to buy a baby carriage. They purchased one, put the baby in it and were wheeling it along the street when they became conscious of the smiles of the passers-by and wondered thereat until they got home, when they noticed that the clerk had omitted to remove the sign from the carriage. It read, "Our Own Make."

Condemning certain eccentricities of etiquette, Senator Sanisbury said at a tea in Washington: "I oppose all such ideas as go against common sense. In short, I'm like the boy who sopped up with his bread some exquisite sauce bernaise. 'It's bad form to sop up your sauce,' his mother said. 'Bad form?' said the boy. 'No, sir! It's good taste.'"

I noticed a cute thing on a street car yesterday. A woman carrying a baby in her arms got on a car and a dozen gallant gentlemen offered her a seat, while ladies without babies were allowed to stand. After securing her seat the fond and foxy mother motioned to a lady friend, and passed the baby on to her, and she was also given a seat, but upon trying it on the third party it failed to work and the woman handed the child back to its mother.

In a country town, following the morning sermon, the leading citizen, a man of more forcefulness than understanding, stepped to the platform and raised his hand for attention, which was immediately given him. "Brothers and sisters," he said, "we have listened to a powerfully fine sermon on prohibition this morning by our beloved pastor. It has moved me wonderfully. I am sure we have all profited by it. We are glad the ministers are taking such an interest in temperance and hope others will follow their example until it is wiped out of our fair land."

Bagster was one of the smartest of commercial travelers and it was his proud boast that he would get his goods in anywhere. He never allowed any trifle like rudeness or inattention to disturb his equanimity. Calling one morning on a manager of a big store, he opened his bag, spread his samples on the desk and began an oration on their merits. He had barely got three words out of his mouth when the manager swept the whole of the samples through the window into the street, caught Bagster by the collar and hurled him neck and crop down the stairs. Arrived below, Baggy dashed into the street, gathered his scattered samples into his arms, climbed the stairs again and pushed his way into the manager's room. "Joking apart," he gasped, smiling amiably, "what do you think of these samples?"

West Virginia Soil.

Nearly two-thirds of the land area of West Virginia is in farms. All soils are from disintegration of limestone, sandstone or mixtures of shales and clays. The soil is generally fertile and does not wash into gullies, the land being productive to the tops of the mountains. Clay soil is found in some of the higher portions, alluvial soil in the uplands, and unproductive sandy soil in the northeast. In the extreme northeastern counties the soil is of rich limestone. West of the mountains the broad, flat hills furnish grazing for cattle, while the valleys produce good crops.

The Englewood Sunday Evening Club.

Our guest and speaker next Sunday evening, Prof. Charles Zueblin of Boston, hardly needs any introduction to a Chicago audience, for his sixteen years of service at the University of Chicago as a member of the university extension staff and his position as the founder of the Northwestern University Settlement have made his name familiar to us all as one of the foremost social and civic workers of our time. To him democracy is not a form of government, but a faith and a life—the life of all by the cooperation of all, for the welfare of all.

Professor Zueblin is to speak to us next Sunday evening on the subject, "America—Pace Maker and Peace Maker," which he calls a lecture on "Pan-Preparedness." He says: "America must recognize that militarism cannot be abolished by prayer or fasting, but only by a reasonable counter-proposal. America must have a working army. Every girl, as well as every boy, should be a conscript to public service. This will inculcate a sound patriotism harmonious with universal, as well as national well-being. It will furnish an opportunity for vocational training in which young people can experiment in life and the nation select its soldiers, engineers, nurses and social workers. No man shall be set aside primarily for murder. The army shall be a working army, not a standing army. The United States must develop a solidarity now lacking. When war is upon us, we spend incredible millions and endure unheard-of suffering. The chief torture demanded of us to forestall these calamities is fearless thought. We must supplement our navy with a merchant marine. We shall neither talk about peace nor plan for war; we shall make peace profitable."

These are views which many of us hold in common with Professor Zueblin and he will undoubtedly bring to us next Sunday evening many new thoughts and possibly some practicable plan toward which to work. There is no man on the American platform who could bring to our Englewood audience a greater knowledge of the subject which today engrosses all our attention and monopolizes our endeavor—safeguarding our democracy.

Our soloist for that evening will be Mr. Lemuel Kilby, baritone. Mr. Kilby is a member of the company now presenting opera in English at the Strand, and a singer of distinction. Remember that we meet in the auditorium of the Englewood Presbyterian church, corner of Yale Ave. and West 64th St., that the doors are open at 6:45, and that our service begins promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Come and spend the evening with us.

Doctor White to Tell Belgium's Sad Story Sunday.

Rev. R. A. White, who visited Belgium in her days of glory several times and made quite a lengthy stay and study of the people and its beauties, has chosen it for the subject of a handsomely illustrated lecture Sunday evening at the People's Liberal church, 65th St. and Stewart Ave. The subject as announced is "Belgium, the Niobe of Nations," and the hearers may rest assured of a literary treat, and an inside view of that afflicted land, never published or told before. Doctor White's lectures are a feature of Sunday life in Englewood and are simply wonderful in their eloquence, thoroughness and educational value, and they are given without price, every one cordially invited. In the morning Doctor White will preach at 10:30 on "The Cost of War," a sermon on the practical things of the day. The service flag of the congregation will also be unfurled and the names of the members who have offered their services to the country will be placed on the honor roll.

Story Hour at Hiram Kelly Branch.

This week a special Thanksgiving program will be given at the Hiram Kelly Branch library. The stories on Friday afternoon at 4 p. m. will be told to children in fifth, sixth and seventh grades. They will be: "The First Thanksgiving," "Ann Mery's Two Thanksgivings," and a Thanksgiving table. On Saturday morning at 10 a. m. the stories will be told to children in the first four grades. The following stories will be told. "The First Thanksgiving," "Chusey's Thanksgiving," and a poem, "Thanksgiving," by M. Child. All children cordially invited to attend.

The Hiram Kelly Branch library will post a list of the operas to be played each week, and the books the library has on the different operas. Come in and familiarize yourself with the opera before seeing it.

China's Great Man Power.

Of the 400,000,000 persons in China, it is estimated that at least 40,000,000 are men capable of carrying arms or doing some sort of labor directly connected with the war. Of this number, 2,000,000 are living within reasonable distance of transportation facilities and could be mobilized were it necessary. China has such an abundance of men that millions could be spared to the advantage of those remaining at home.

Siamese capital, employing Danish engineers and machinery, has built a large cement plant near Bangkok.

Englewood Woman's Club.

Monday Morning, Nov. 26, to Be Spent With the Education Department—Workshop Players to Give a Group of Their Own Plays in the Afternoon.

The second morning with the Sociology department was attended by a large number of people Monday, November 19.

Mrs. Robert D. Swisher, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting, followed by a number of reports, called for by the chairman, Mrs. C. G. Kindred.

Mrs. Martin Edinger of the social service committee reported on the work being done at Davis square, which began October 24. Sewing and English will be taught to the foreign women on Wednesdays at ten o'clock. Volunteers are wanted as teachers in these two subjects. Many of the same ladies who attended last year are continuing again this year, and a plea for more helpers is the wish of this committee; also clothing of all sorts is desired.

Mrs. Charles M. Woodman, chairman of the United Charities, briefly told of the work of her committee, which aims to keep families together through the mothers' pension, provided the father has been naturalized. If the mother has working capacity her pension is less. "Do not give charity at your own back door; there are more fakes than otherwise."

Miss Orrill M. Clark reported that preparations are now on the way to get the legislature to appropriate money for the building of an institute for feeble-minded, the location to be either in Chicago or nearby.

Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank spoke on the work of the woman's committee of the council of national defense.

"The war has been the greatest democratizing thing. Women have come to one level in feeling for the men at the front."

"Nature has been good to us; we have raw materials here and the resources are here to back up our men."

"Men have been taken and a chaotic condition now exists which must be organized for greater efficiency."

"The first thing of importance is to register women to find the actual power of women in the United States, because, if this war goes on, there will be no question but what the women will have to do things."

"In Europe women so far have really made no sacrifice except those who have given up their boys and husbands. The only ones who have made the 100 per cent sacrifice are the men themselves."

"In Germany, no doubt, every woman is doing some patriotic service."

"The sheltered women in France are now out in the fields and factories."

"In England we really know what women are doing in munition factories, clerical work, chemical and engineering work, coal mining and excavating railroad cuts. The womanhood of England has been shattered by the work. If the war lasts another year the women will be making battleships complete."

"It is a sort of honorable obligation that we who are left behind must continue safe conditions for the families whose men have gone to the front, as conditions must be found as nearly normal as possible when the men come back."

"Juvenile delinquency went up from 8 to 58 per cent in two years in England, because the children as well as the women turned in to make a quick drive to end the war; consequently new laws have had to be made."

"Our own delinquents have gone up in six months because the attention is so absorbed in the war."

"Conservation is another important part of the council of defense work. The milk supply of America feeds the world at present. Thousands will die because we cannot get rats, eggs and milk to them. England and France largely depend on our condensed milk and butter. Use butter substitutes in cooking, so condensed milk can be made. Save bacon, ham, beef and mutton. Bacon, the most concentrated food value must be saved. Fats are vitally necessary in making munitions. The need of sugar is tremendous. However, beet sugar will be plentiful before long."

"We have to prove that by living in abundance has not spoiled us and that we can sacrifice until it hurts."

The above is proof enough that Mrs. Fairbank was fully acquainted with her subject, and interest never waned during the morning.

Mrs. R. Maynard Reed, vice president, presided at the business meeting held in the afternoon.

"America" was sung by the audience, but without fervor. It is that we are not familiar with the words of this patriotic song, or do we not feel that which should mean so much to us?

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Nichols, secretary, and announcements followed.

The French salon will meet Tuesday, November 27, with Mrs. W. L. Sharp of 7124 Yale Ave.

Mrs. Willis Tower, treasurer, read an interesting report.

Reports were ready by delegates who attended the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, which convention was held at Sinai temple Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

A resolution was indorsed by this federation regarding the conservation of yarn for personal use until all soldiers and sailors have been supplied. This was also indorsed by the Englewood Woman's club at the meeting on Monday.

The delegates who gave splendid reports of this convention were Mrs. Cyrus H. Martin, Mrs. Charles E. Shearman and Mrs. A. R. E. Wyant.

Reports were heard from chairmen of the following committees: Mrs. Culver of Cook County league, Mrs. W. K. Brittain, lunch room; Mrs. August Tidholm, refreshment; Mrs. Buhleg, club bulletin, and Mrs. J. G. Campbell, Red Cross; also from delegates to the Third district—Mrs. A. J. Cox; Municipal Art league, Mrs. Charles Leigh; Sarah Hackett Stevenson home, Mrs. F. C. Brandt; Englewood branch of United Charities, Mrs. C. M. Woodman; Neighborhood house, Mrs. W. H. Fairbanks; Housewives' league, Mrs. C. H. Gurnett, and Public School Art society, Mrs. A. J. Sayers.

The club voted on the following philanthropies to be paid: $5 to Neighborhood house for their Christmas party; $25 to Illinois Congress of Mothers, $25 to Englewood branch United Charities, $50 to Englewood Law and Order league.

After the adjournment a light repast was served.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

SOUTHWEST DISTRICT.

Troop No. 600, $3,850; 601, $5,100; 602, $6,800; 605, $15,550; 606, $28,100; 609, 2,500; 610, 11,100; 611, $350; 612, $14,950 617, $450; 619, $750; 621, $750; 623, $23,650. Total $113,900.

At a meeting of the Scout masters, Mr. Griffen outlined a plan for dividing the district into subdistricts and after a short discussion it was adopted. Each subdistrict will have its own council and court of honor for first and second class examinations. All merit badge examinations being held at the district headquarters at Hamilton Park at 4:00 every Friday. Service corps meets with Mr. Reeves at the same time and place.

The Doings of the Troops.

George Johnston and George Rohrbach have passed their service examinations of the A class. Johnston, by the way, will get one of the silver R. O. T. C. medals for the fine work he did at Fort Sheridan this summer.

November 3 Troop 610 gave a Halloween party to Troop 568, the other troop commanded by Captain Neeves.

After formation, the following Beaver pins were given out: Silver Beaver—Troop Leader O'Brien; bronze beavers, Assistant Patrol Leaders Bowen and Johnson, and Scout Murray. These pins are assigned at the monthly troop officers' meeting to the scouts of the troop that are judged to have done the best work in scoutcraft during the month. They are held for one month at a time.

We have had a hike every week, attended by a large number of scouts, also two of the troop committee have been out, and the other one will have to or get canned.

Our first class fellows are working hard on the merit badge work.

We are quite proud to know that our assistant scout master, Warren Stafford, has earned a corporal's warrant at Camp Grant.

Community Club of Englewood.

The club members have been very happy and very busy for the past two weeks; busy at the registration places enrolling the women for the "Second line of defense" work, and happy that the results show an intelligent, patriotic response to the call for assistance that has been very gratifying, and will prove a bulwark upon which the country can depend for any and all kinds of service which will help the boys preserve our country and homes inviolate. About 60 per cent of the women of our Thirteenth, Fourteen, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Nineteenth and Twentieth precincts of the Thirty-first ward registered, and later returns will add more names to the list of the loyal.

November 13 proved a gala day for the club at Sprague-Warner & Co.'s plant, where the members were first shown the actual workings of a large and successful grocery house, including a trip to the tunnel, far below the street where the products are sent to and from the railroads, thus saving the street traffic. While partaking of a luncheon, replete with the good foods of the house, instructive, informal talks on the different courses served were also enjoyed, and the club will long remember this day as one of great pleasure and profit.

The regular business meeting of November 27 will be at the Hiram Kelly Branch library, when Mrs. Raulston will submit a report on the meeting of the Illinois Federation of Woman's Clubs held last week at Sinai temple. The sessions were most interesting and dealt with many of the great movements of concern to women at the present time. Another interesting number on the program will be that of Miss Wilson of the library, who is going to tell the "grown-ups" an Indian story. The library committee asks for a book and magazine shower for our boys at the camps, so on this day let each one, if possible, bring a good book or a magazine not more than three months old, your bit, to help cheer the boys away from home. The Red Cross committee meets with the sewers and knitters of the club every Tuesday and a large amount of splendid work is constantly being turned out.

Public Health Meeting.

The regular monthly public health meeting will be held in the Parker Practice school on Tuesday, November 27. These meetings are regularly called for the last Thursday evening of each month, but on account of Thanksgiving day, the date has been changed for the November meeting.

An interesting program has been arranged, and is as follows:

Paper on "Spitters and Spitting," by a prominent layman (name to be announced).

Discussion by Dr. H. H. Bay of the Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium.

"Inspection of Food Stores," Howard Johnson of the food bureau.

Paper by Dr. H. O. Jones, school inspector and department of infant welfare. (Subject to be announced.)

The president, Doctor Perkins, is quarantined with diphtheria, and in his absence Dr. H. H. Bay, vice president, will preside.

Calumet High and Auburn Park Parent-Teacher Association.

On December 5 an experience meeting will be held, at which the mothers will tell their experiences in earning a dollar to be used in welfare work in the neighborhood of the school. Each mother is requested to earn ten dimes, or as near that amount as possible. Prizes will be given to the one who earned her dimes in the most amusing way, the most self-sacrificing way, and the most original way. Will the mothers please call at the school to get receptacles for the dimes?—Mrs. Mary J. Buffington, President.
